DEBATERS CHOSEN

MOST SUCCESSFUL DEBATING TRY-OUTS HELD LAST TUESDAY NIGHT.

University of Utah and Provo Teams Chosen.

Seldom has such interest in debating been manifest as during this year at the A. C. From an institution feeble and almost uselessly struggling for its very existence, it has, in a few short years, grown to be one of the strongest of our school activities. Its healthy growth was indicated by the organizing of "The Agora," the honorary debating society just formed. The interest taken in the try-outs this year marks, however, the final establishment of debating in its proper place at this school.

In these Try-outs but two of our three inter-collegiate teams were selected, the teams to meet the University of Utah and that the Brigham Young University. Try-outs will be held later to select the team that goes to Montana to meet the M. A. C.

In all sixteen men tried for places on the teams and from these, seven were chosen. Four men represent the college against the "U. of U." three principals and one alternate. While three men represent us against the B. Y. U. there being but two principals represent us against the B. Y. U. there being but two principals for either side in this debate.

J. S. Welch, V. C. Woolley and N. H. Comish were chosen for the U. of U. team with A. M. Gurjar, alternate. For the B. Y. U. team, W. L. Quayle and I. B. Ball were selected, with Herwin Bunderson as alternate.

That the men chosen represent the best the school can give none will deny. We may confidentially expect great things from them.

The debating committee is jubilant over the result. Never have such successful debating try-outs been conducted at this school. Different members of the committee, who have had the pleasure of attending debating

SCHOOL DRAMATICS

NEXT MONDAY AND TUESDAY NIGHT THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS APPEAR BEFORE THE FOOTLIGHTS.

Pinero's Amazons to be Presented.

After many weeks of hard work the High school students are at last ready to present to the public their contribution to the pleasures of this school year.

They will present Pinero's delightful comedy "The Amazons" next Monday and Tuesday nights. This play, as do nearly all of Pinero's, deals with the life of the English nobility. It contains Pinero's usual amusing situations, mixed with his touches of pathos.

The play will prove exceedingly interesting to college students and lends itself very well to student production.

With such a play to present, and such a cast as follows to present it, no doubt as to its success can be entertained.

Every student owes it to himself, his college and to the High School students who have worked so hard, to go and see this play.

Already it has been produced to a large enthusiastic house in Providence and tomorrow night the cast will go to Hyde Park.

"Erminie" Saturday Night

FOR HISTORICAL RESEARCH

With the coming of a new eastern man into our school to head our History Department, one interested and somewhat enthusiastic about the West, came the birth of a new society. Prof. Dale, wishing to know more about the history of Utah and thinking her native sons should, has organized a history club, open to all college men that are in any way interested in history and the growth and development of Utah.

The organization is known as "The Philo Document Society." Its purpose is to trace the history of Utah from the earliest possible period. The work will all be research, nothing will be taken for granted and every conclusion drawn must be based on facts.

The work and progress of this society should be watched by all, for it will bring to light new facts, confirm or discredit old ones and make reliable charts concerning Utah's history.

A small fee is charged for entrance, which will be expended for books, bearing upon the history of Utah. These will later be presented to the college library. The society realizing that the library is sadly lacking in books on this subject, think that in this alone they will accomplish a great work.

Membership in this society is open to all college men, who have had history work above that of the high school grades and all such men will be warmly welcomed.

It is no burden to belong to such a society as the work is divided among all the members, and a very sociable and intellectual evening is spent while much work is accomplished.

ATHLETIC NOTES

BASKET BALL PROSPECTS.

From present prospects, this year promises to be a banner year for the Aggies in basket ball.

With so many new men coming to the A. C. this year who have played on other teams in the state, Coach Teetzel expects to have a winning team this season. More interest seems to be taken in the class games than ever before. There are three or four men on nearly every team who stand a good chance for making the squad.

From all appearances, it seems as if there is going to be a great amount of competition, and if competition counts anything, which it certainly does, we will have an excellent team.

All of last year's men are back, including Hancock, Egbert, Cook, Hobson, Crookston and E. Brosard.

Cook, however, will not be allowed to play, having played four years.

The squad is not selected yet, but prospective men are Hancock, Egbert, Crookston, Hobson, Brosard, Vickers, Ellison, Beagley, Keller, Griffin, Walker, Radcliff and Allen.

JUNIORS VS. SENIORS.

Last Saturday at 4:30 the Juniors and Seniors met in combat upon our gymnasium (I) floor.

It was an excellent game, but ended with the Seniors victorious by a score of 27 to 11.

For the Seniors, Hancock was the star, while for the Juniors, Ellison, Vicker and Beagley all played well. The Juniors failed to display good team work, which cost them the game. They have good men, who, after playing together a number of times, will play the Seniors a close game. All of their men are new ones, this being their first year at the A. C., and they have never played together before, while the Senior team was composed mostly of men who have been playing together more or less for the last year or two.

One thing that looked good to everybody was to see Ed. Brosard, our former athletic star, dressed in a basket-ball suit and playing the game. We certainly do hope that Ed. will be able to play this year, as he will be a valuable addition to the team.

The Line-Up.

Seniors	Juniors
Brossard r.f.	Beagley
Cook l.f.	Vickers
Hancock c.	Ellison
Lindsay-Christensen r.g.	Radcliff
Egbert, Jones l.g.	Allen

FRESHMEN VS. SOPHOMORES

Following the Junior-Senior game came one between the Freshies and Sophs, which ended in a victory for the Freshies. The score was 19 to 12.

In this game much good playing was in evidence. Some of the men stand an excellent chance. Among these prospective men was Keller, a Freshman, who played on the B. Y. C. squad the year they had the state championship team.

Others are Hobson and Elmer Brosard. Both of whom played on our team last year.

The Line-Up.

Freshman	Sophomore
Keller r.f.	Brossard
Laurenson l.f.	Wyatt
Griffin c.	Hobson
Peterson, N. A. r.g.	Mohr
Christensen l.g.	Peterson, V

FIRST YEARS' VS.

SECOND YEARS

The first class game of the season was played last Saturday, when the second years' put the first years to the bad by a score of 34 to 5. Evidently the first years' were making their initial appearance as basket-ball stars, their debut, so to speak.

However, they will have to believe in the old saying: "A poor beginning makes a good ending," and go ahead and learn the game.

The second years' have a strong team this year, and will run a good hard race with the Juniors and Seniors for first place, as it appears at present that the Juniors and Seniors have the best teams judging from individual men.

The Line-Up.

Second Years'	First Years'
Aldous, Woodland r.f.	Peterson

Peterson l.f.	Larsen
Walker c.	Olsen
Crookston r.g.	Nelson
Owen l.g.	Wilde

Dr. Stewart went down to the Woman's Building Tuesday, nothing strange about that, he became absorbed in something and forgot his Chem. 3 class, nothing very strange about that; and the girls looked all over for him and wanted to have a class; nothing very, very strange about that?

A few of the fellows reached absolute zero in Physics.

try-outs in our larger universities are free to say that the class of work done here last Tuesday night was fully as good as anything they have ever witnessed. So general was the excellence shown that it was very difficult to choose the winning teams.

THE AG. CLUB BALL

For a change from previous years the Aggies decided to discard the overall and shirt sleeve custom and show what education does for a farmer in the way of teaching him how to follow the up-to-date styles of dress. And the result far surpassed the expectations even of Geo. Caine. The white duck trousers and breezy bow tie transformed the blue denimed rustic into the most stylish summer dressed aristocrat. Even the powers that govern the elements were so pleased when they heard the plan that they sent weather to match the suits. The climax was reached when club members with their partners stepped out on the floor for their special march and dance. The contrast between the dark skirts and white trousers and the white waists and aprons and dark coats produced such a striking effect that exclamations of pleased surprise were heard from all parts of the house. The fact that no fines were collected shows how loyal the D. S. girls supported the Ag. department.

In decorating, the boys were very successful in obtaining an autumnal effect. From the Agricultural display in the south end of the hall to the loaded apple tree up behind the orchestra, the whole room breathed the quiet, spicy atmosphere of the harvest season. The old cider press under the apple tree brought back fond recollections of by gone days and caused a dreamy expression to spread over the faces of many. But a sip of the magic beverage which flowed from the press dispelled this far away look and caused the eye to sparkle again. It was even rumored that president Sessions inhaled a little too freely, but that was impossible for it was nothing but the juice of the apple pressed out while you waited.

Everyone present pronounced the ball a great success. The only complaint seemed to be that the time passed far too quickly and "Home, sweet home" found them in the midst of their enjoyment. It will certainly tax the ingenuity of the coming farmers to surpass or even equal the originality and success of this annual ball.

AWAKE! YE JUNIORS

You are sleeping, Juniors, sleeping;
Though you think your wide awake;
Seniors past you now are creeping,
Soon they'll have you all a weeping.
Tis your harvest you are reaping,
Don't you know the weeks are sweeping,
Yet, still your sleeping, Juniors, sleeping;
Do you want a gentle shake?

Are you dreaming, Juniors, dreaming,
That your up amongst the clouds?
Don't forget 'tis only seeming,
Seniors are the school redeeming.
Bright stars are we forever gleaming
At the top you'll find us beaming!
Do you Juniors grasp our meaning,
Oh, you who'll wear shrouds?
Yet, we hope to see you waking,
Someday bye and bye.

Don't let the Seniors be a taking
The place for you the world is making
Don't be always rules a breaking
Your old habits be a shaking,
Can we hope to see you waking
Some day bye and bye?

THAT MAGAZINE AGENT.

Rules and regulations governing the conduct of students in the library are printed in our hand books and are posted in the reading room and our students as a rule are observing those regulations fairly well.

Students have come to realize that the library is no place for visiting or gossip, but last week there in the reading room and behind the stacks as well, were treated to the visit of one of the most persistent magazine agents that we have ever had the pleasure (?) of meeting.

Members of our own Student Body are restrained, but this stranger was allowed to come in unchecked and expound the beauties of his paper, to which most of our students had neither the time or inclination to listen.

Such men are not allowed to take up our time in chapel by advertising their goods and we feel that it would be just and proper to prohibit them from usurping the valuable time of students in the library.

ALWAYS BOOSTING.

The new "Commercial Club," is certainly making its presence felt in the school. Although they organized but a few weeks ago, they have already started upon a campaign for boosting the A. C. Recently, upon the excursion to Salt Lake City for the Thanksgiving football game, they distributed ten thousand cards reading as follows.

You'll Like the A. C.
U. A. C. COMMERCIAL CLUB
Invites you to help make the Utah Agricultural College the greatest School in the West.
The only School in Utah which offers a degree in Commerce.

Their slogan is, "You'll like the A. C. which heads their cards. That such a live organization will have an effect for good at our college is self evident.

The club has secured the room

north of the "Buzzer" room, for a club room, and cordially invites its friends to visit it there.

HANCOCK ELECTED CAPTAIN

Last Monday night the basketball men met to choose a captain, and as a result Hancock was selected as the man for that position. Hancock came to the A. C. last year and played football, basketball, and made the track team. His work in basketball was extra good, and we expect him to be one of our stars for this season. This being his last year at the college it is very fitting that the honor should be conferred upon him.

According to the rules Mr. Bowman went up after the class; "Prof. Smith," he said, "I came in late, will you please mark me present."

Departments

Beginning with this issue Student Life intends to devote what space is necessary to a general write-up of each department of the College.

The staff of our Agronomy department at present consists of Prof. J. C. Hogensen, '99, chief agronomist, and Erastus Petersen, '09, assistant agronomist, and farm foreman.

The department is divided into two parts: One pertaining to the Experiment Station and one to the College.

The station division has charge of the Greenville and Frankhauser farms, located at Greenville. At these farms, a number of scientific experiments are being carried out. Notable among these is the research work on the movement of nitrates under the influence of irrigation waters. This work is done in connection with the Chemistry department and has been going on for about three years. Another is the sugar beet experiment, in which they are attempting to improve the sugar content of the beets by individual selection. This experiment has been under way for eight years. This season's beet crop averaged 18 per cent sugar and some beets ran as high as 24 per cent.

Two experiments are carried on with potatoes, one to determine the size of seed and the quantity that should be used per acre, also the proper depth of planting and the amount and time of irrigation. The purpose of the other is to secure a larger yield and a more uniform product. For three years, six varieties of potatoes have been grown and selections made at the time of harvest of the best tubers from the most productive hills.

Three rotation experiments including the most important crops of this region are carried on, the object being to find out how best to retain the fertility of the soil.

Considerable work has been done in the improvement of alfalfa. Eight varieties are used and individual selections are made from the best plants for feeding purposes. Vegetative cuttings are made of these plants and cross fertilization between selected plants of the same and different varieties is resorted to. Another purpose of this selection is to improve seed production. Grains and miscellaneous crops are grown to determine their relative worth.

In the college division eighteen courses are offered, five of which are required in the regular courses and thirteen are electives. Besides these regular courses, the department is also running a short, half-year course in which about thirty students are registered.

The department has four rooms in the northwest part of the basement of the main building for laboratory work. The north room is the farm crops laboratory, which is perhaps as well equipped as any laboratory of its kind in the West. The other three rooms are for laboratory work in soils and soil physics. These are also well equipped with modern apparatus and every appliance necessary for a complete study of the soil.

That the department is attracting attention throughout the country is shown by the fact that during the past season it has received nearly one thousand dollars worth of farm machinery from various firms in the United States to be used for experimental and demonstration purpose.

At present one hundred and fifty-two students are enrolled in agronomy work, twelve of whom are Seniors.

There will be more graduates in Agronomy this year than in any other course offered by the institution.

The growth of the department and its present work certainly speak well of the work of Prof. Hogensen and his assistants.

Alumni Notes

U. A. C. ALUMNI IN ATTENDANCE AT VARIOUS COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES. 1910-1911

Of late years the U. A. C. Alumni Association has been represented every year by a considerable number of students, usually about a dozen, scattered throughout the best colleges and universities of the Union. This year the number is greatly increased. Nearly a score of the Alumni are specializing in various fields of work. The following is the complete list of those doing graduate work.

Alfred E. Aldous, '10, (Forestry), Univ. of Minnesota.
Asa Bullen, '10, (Law), Harvard University.
Ernest Carroll, '09, (Animal Nutrition), Univ. of Illinois.
Robert J. Evans, '09, (Horticulture), Cornell University.
Charles E. Fleming, '09, (Forestry), Univ. of Minnesota.
Leon Fennesbeck, '09, (Law), Chicago University.
Joseph E. Greaves, '04, (Chemistry), Univ. of California.
George R. Hill, '08, (Horticulture), Cornell University.
A Ray Irvine, '08, (Medicine), Vienna, Austria.
Eunice E. Jacobson, '08, (English), Univ. of Chicago.
C. Nephi Jensen, '08 (Horticulture), Cornell University.
Willard S. Langton, '96, (Mathematics), Columbia University.
Orson G. Lloyd, '10, (Agricultural Economics), Univ. of Wisconsin.
Inez Maughan, '10, Utah Agricultural College.
Melvin C. Merrill, '05, (Horticulture), Cornell University.
W. Corlett Riter, '10, Univ. of Utah.
Edward H. Walters, '09 (Chemistry), Univ. of California.
Franklin L. West, '04, (Physics), Univ. of Chicago.
Of these eighteen, several men, notably Greaves, '04, Carroll, '09, Hill, '08, Jensen, '08, Merrill, '05, and West, '04, are in direct line for the degree of Ph. D. It should be particularly noted that Elmer George Peterson, '04, new Professor of Bacteriology at the Oregon Agricultural College has all the required work for the Ph. D. finished at Cornell. He will receive the degree at the next Commencement.

SOROSIS SWEETS

Prediction of next Tuesday's chapel exercises. Mr. Speaker: "When I was a boy there were not the opportunities which you young people enjoy. At Christmas time we had a few raisins, a lump of maple sugar or a piece of molasses cake. We didn't even know the names of fudge, taffy, divinity or fondant; there was nothing to make them with there was no one able to make them. There was no Sorosis Society. We couldn't even buy them and you have them all at your very door. Boys take advantage of your delicious opportunities, remember the folks at home, your mother or your sweetheart think how happy either would be at Christmas with a box of Sorosis candy."

From a letter from Rae P. Stratford, a former A. C. student and at present manager of "The Idaho Techniad," the new school paper of the academy of Idaho, we quote the following:

"Knowing that I was acquainted with the U. A. C. several of the football fellows asked me to tell you that they enjoyed their visit there this fall very much and that they would always have a warm spot in their hearts for the A. C. fellows, as well as the school, in fact, two or three of the boys who graduate here this year have decided to attend school there next year."

Give Your Cows a Square Deal

What would you think of a farmer who would thresh his grain with a machine that would carry off one bushel in every four with the chaff?

Wouldn't think much of his judgment, would you? Then what do you think of a man who still skims milk by the old-fashioned "setting" system and loses about one pound of cream in every four? Any creamery-man will tell you that with a

DE LAVAL Cream Separator

you can get as much cream from three cows as you can from four by any gravity setting process, and besides, you will have nice, fresh, sweet milk to feed to your calves.

Ask us to prove it. Try a DE LAVAL at our expense. Write for particulars about our free trial plan.

Miss Guild to Major: "Oh, dear, you get me when you do that."

The women of the A. C. meet informally with Mrs. Widsöe this afternoon.

Mrs. Castle Jordan of the Amazon cast, was so hungry in Providence that during the third act she entered the cupboard instead of the dining room.

President Widsöe was in Salt Lake City this week attending a board meeting for the purpose of getting out a report to present to the legislature.

Among the visitors at the college during the past week were: Hugh J. Cannon, here looking over our dairy and dairy herd; Professor Maud May Babcock of the U. of U., and J. M. MacFarland of S. L. C.

Tickets for the Monday night, Dec. 12, performance of the "Amazons," will be on sale at the College book store from half past four on Friday, Dec. 9, until 5 o'clock Saturday, Dec. 10, after which they will be on sale at the opera house. Tickets for Tuesday night performance will be on sale Monday and Tuesday at the opera house.

The Commercial Club at a recent meeting passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the honored president and faculty of this institution be asked to give to all commercial students the privilege of changing their courses from commercial to agriculture, and that no financial charge shall accompany this change."

Grand champion fat hog, matchless Baron III, of the 1910 International at Chicago is at the college barn. This pig has attracted much attention in the east and has been sent out here, through the efforts of Director Carlyle of Idaho, by the American Berkshire Association to be used on the demonstration train which will run through Utah and Idaho.

Girl in Providence after the Amazon performance: "I thought this was a comic opera and they only sang three songs."

Another case of faculty absent-mindedness. Saturday, Miss Kyle seized Mr. Laurensen and hastily rushed into the president's office, forgetting that it was neither Judge Brangham's office, nor Wednesday.

President Widsöe and Dr. Ball leave Sunday to lecture before the movable schools of agriculture at four schools in southern Idaho. They expect to be gone about a week. Prof. Turpin will leave the middle of next week to lecture at the same schools.

MARK TWAIN IS DEAD

BUT LIVES AGAIN IN PROF. PORTER.

Prof. Porter chanced to be at the Sorosis ball one evening, when a young girl came in who had been in his Chem. I class five years ago.

"Isn't that Miss Carrie McAllister?"

Dr. Thos. who sat next to him said that it was, whereupon he decided to have a dance with her. He went to where she sat and said: "Good evening, Miss McAllister." "How do you do?" she replied, kindly offering him her hand. Then he knew he had not been mistaken. As soon as they were on the floor, he said: "What a splendid winter you must have had in Boston!"

"Y—e—s," she said rather questioningly. "Oh, yes, it was lovely!"

"I suppose you became enthusiastic about the symphonies, the pep concerts and the dog shows?"

"Yes," she said, "Indeed, I did—but, she didn't, she'd never seen a dog show in her life."

"Do you know Miss Jepperson? Here it seemed to her safer to tell the truth so she said cautiously "N—o, I—don't—believe—I—do."

But, Prof. Porter went on, "She's a Provo girl, you know, used to sing a good deal at Inter-colonial Hall?"

"She fervently wished that she did know but her memory was a blank." However, this was no place to stop so she said, "Y—e—s, yes, I remember now, but I was in Frost Hall and so didn't get much acquainted outside."

Cold chills were running down her back, she realized, "that to go further would be to lie and that she would not do so she simply kept still and suffered, for she was being slowly fried to death in her own blushes" when to her relief he asked, "what became of Radie Ormsby, who used to be around with you so much?"

Here was a balmy place to be in and she answered promptly, "She's married."

The poor girl was wondering when the lightning would strike next when the music stopped and Prof. Porter escorted Carrie's sister to her seat.

JUNIORS VS SENIORS

SENIORS WIN IN THE FIRST OF INTERCLASS DEBATES.

Last Friday morning at the regular chapel period the first of the series of interclass debates was held. The question under discussion was: "Resolved, That granted it were constitutional, it would be wise for the Federal Government to establish a graduated income tax, provided that no other tax be advocated."

The Juniors, who had the affirmative, were represented by Messrs. I. B. Ball and G. M. Taylor. The Seniors, on the negative, by Messrs. A. M. Gurjar and A. L. Nelson. On the whole the Juniors showed better delivery and more practice in public speaking than did the Seniors.

The latter won, however, because of more logical and definite arrangement of material and by a more forceful presentation.

The judges were Professors Hendricks, Pedersen and Porter. Mr. V. C. Wolley, our manager of debating, acted as chairman.

The Freshman-Sophomore contest will happen in the near future, and after that the final debate for the interclass championship, the Tomas medal and cups going to those who win in the final contest.

The "U" of "U" Dramatic Club presents the play "The Professors Love Story" here next Thursday and Friday nights. All students should be there. The club has made an enviable reputation here already and we may expect an excellent production.
